

First "Above the Influence" Day to Celebrate Youth Who Avoid Peer Pressure

ONDCP Director Gil Kerlikowske

The White House Office of National Drug Control Policy (ONDCP) is sponsoring the first National "Above the Influence" (ATI) Day on October 18 to celebrate youth who avoid pressure to use drugs and alcohol.

ATI Day will take place during National Substance Abuse Prevention Month in October.

On ATI Day, teens across the country will participate in a live-streaming panel discussion on the topic of influence, led by ONDCP Director Gil Kerlikowske.

Partners are also invited to engage local teens with ATI activities, a local event or youth experience that supports your respective missions.

For more information on "Above the Influence" and to download the ATI Activities Toolkit and other FREE resources, visit www.ATIPartnerships.com.

Click here to learn more about Alcohol, Drugs and Youth.